

PART 2

By now it's clear that this course is nothing like a personality test or aptitude inventory that tells you what you should be when you grow up. You know the kind. Based on this 10 minute survey it says right here that I'm destined to be either an accountant or a lion tamer!

Those assessments can be comforting, and are sometimes a good starting point, but more often than not they're the reason why people are stuck in the wrong career. When it came time to make a career decision, many people took the easy road and did what an assessment told them to do, with little further inquiry.

Maybe you took that road too. Maybe you picked your career based on what you were told to do by an aptitude inventory...

or a guidance counsellor...

or a friend...

or a parent...

or a spouse...

or a teacher...

all who probably had the best of intentions, but have no real way of knowing what's best for you. Only you know that.

Sometimes the easy road actually turns out to be the hard road.
Especially if it gets you lost.

In part one of this course, you got more deeply in touch with your truth and your desires. If you're still feeling lost (or paralyzed in fear), chances are you'll have to dig a little deeper to see how you might be getting in your own way. We're going to do that now in part two.

Fasten your seat belts. Here we go.
